

TIME'S BODY

The skybell
with neither clapper nor dome rings.

Air draws
words into its passing,
nothing in some other
guise, time's
body.

Snow fills the bell,
gathers into its tolling,

falls.